Zola "Lady Z" Wright, WCSU Chicago Blues Radio wrote in her review of the album:

"OMG, I've just finished listening to the entire CD....I love it...it is awesome Tom, wow...you guys are so talented....wow, what a Blues band....you guys do the Blues good...the Blues fathers would be proud of all of you.....like there isn't one song that I don't like....and, I mean DAM this is a really great album.."

The four musicians prove once again that they can make real and good music with good craftsmanship and without electronic magic. On top of that, the guys brought the best brass and harp players from southern Germany into the studio and perfected their sound. Muddy Waters and Robert Johnson shouldn't be missing here, of course. "I'm Ready" and "Can't Get No Grindin'" become a respectful and atmospheric homage to the blues master on this album. "Sweet Home Chicago", which was also recorded with a guest singer from Chicago, is really fun, which is why the song was chosen. All other songs are penned by the band. The dramaturgically perfectly styled album also sounds out all the possibilities of a current blues band in terms of sound. Going blues for the dance legs alternates with thoughtful ballad mood.

As a live act, the GProject Blues Band is not only a fixture in the Munich club scene. From the Bamberg Blues & Jazz Festival, Chicago Blues Fest up to the International Jazz Days Burghausen, the range of locations for Thomas "TomBo" Ott (drums), the keyboard virtuoso Michael "Staudi" Staudenmeyer, US original James "Jamie" Ransom (bass) and the US / Australian guitarist with Greek roots Leonidas "Leo" Kyriakakos.
