I Chose Hell

I Chose Hell is a Melodic Metalcore band from Stuttgart, Germany, which was founded in 2016.

Consisting of two guitars, bass, drums, as well as gutturals and anthemic clean vocals, the band delivers refreshingly atypical Metalcore with influences from various subgenres and combines melodic and heavy elements in a unique way.

After the release of their first single "A Song To The Freaks" in summer 2019, I Chose Hell released their debut EP "Comatose" in 2020. The new single "Decisions" debuted in February 2022 and introduced clean singer Marius to the band. After the departure of their screaming vocalist they found the perfect match in Markus. With this new lineup I Chose Hell is currently working on new projects.
