

Lookin' for a trip down memory lane? Follow me back to the good ol' days...

With her roots in the vast expanse of the Siberian Plain, Alina Dalsegno is a singer-songwriter and painter, aiming for the same limitless freedom in her music and art.

Having played the bass and rhythm guitar for over 13 years in various bands, projects and orchestras, she began writing her own tunes and words, inspired and fueled by a different, magical time on the opposite side of the globe - the rockin' groovy 60ies, with artists such as CCR, Bob Dylan, Jimi Hendrix, and so many more - resulting in the release of her first album - Psychedelic Coffee - at Timezone Records in 2021. The bluesy spirit of melodious guitar- and bass-work carries the thought-laden lyrics and conjure up a feeling of coming home...

Alongside guitarist Tom Schillings, saxophonist Parag, and drummer Peter Rothe, the psychedelic, bluesy journey will continue live and in studio, viewing life and its vast details through a different, colorful lens.

Sweetest musical greetings to you.
