ABOUT

BOX OF CHOCOLATES

are an unlikely indietronica duo from Berlin creating songs as tasty and colorful as chocolates in a box.

BOX OF CHOCOLATES explore togetherness in music. Singer EFF and guitarist LOUPOE fully embrace their different identities and bring them into action on stage. They don't just play, they interplay.

EFF is a classically trained soprano with a broad range of vocal color, tone and expression. Her lyrics evolve around questions of human relatedness in all its mundane and extreme forms.

LOUPOE is a highly skilled guitarist who can switch effortlessly between styles. His earthy riffs offer a counterpoint to EFF's airy melodies, just as his calm personality provides grounding for her energy.

Since their formation in 2016, BOX OF CHOCOLATES have released one album and two EPs full of crass musical contrast demonstrating the duo's insanely wide scope.

Currently, BOX OF CHOCOLATES are working on the worldwide first indietronic mini opera. Why? Because someone just has to do it.

The vinyl LP LIMINAL takes a bold run through all shades of indie music including heavy alternative rock, hard cross-over, blues and folk as well as electronic and trip hop. Liminality describes a human state during rites of passage when you've left your old way of being but you have not yet completed the transition. The twelve songs evolve around such ambiguous moments in life, when we're on the threshold, when things cannot stay the way they were. Every song tells a different story of such a turning point.

With 2NESS, BOX OF CHOCOLATES embark on their first journey into drum and bass, just to invent a new genre on the fly. Enjoy fine LIQUID PROG CHOC: Organic beats. Deep meaning. And as always, a good dose of chocolate. The tracks evolve around opposing aspects of human connectedness. How alone are we in our pain? How close can we get once we give up our sense of boundary? The songs are accompanied by two bonus tracks: Fresh electronic remixes of the BOX OF CHOCOLATES song LIMINAL, created by award-winning producer Stefan Noltemeyer.

The new EP SACRILEGE! is an experiment in musical interaction: A classical voice meets an electric guitar to play 400 year old masterpieces of Early Music. Unlike other forms of musical cross-over, SACRILEGE! does not look for a combination of different styles but a true interplay: What happens to the attitude of a rock guitar when dueling with 400 year old sheet music? How do classical vocals have to change when infected by amplified and distorted guitar sounds? SACRILEGE! is a discovery: When really listening to the OTHER you cannot stay the same! The result is a fresh transformation of seemingly well-known pieces revealing hidden energies that haven't been heard before.
