

dynamic syndicate - Biography

dynamic syndicate is a German electronic metal band, consisting of Sascha Schneider and Alex Riedl.

Their style of music is a mix of electronic sounds, broken beats and heavy metal guitar.

Sascha has had a fascination for synthesizers, samplers and drum computers since the early 90s and has produced electronic music since then. Over the years, this has led to a number of record releases and numerous live gigs.

Alex's passion is catchy rock licks and powerful heavy metal riffs. He has been producing rock/metal songs for years, proving his musical pedigree on the stage on countless occasions.

They met in Cologne in 2009 and began experimenting with their differing musical influences.

A crossover project consisting of electro, big beat and metal/rock influences.

Two musical worlds have come together; two musical worlds you would never have expected to combine with such "dynamic".
