

METTERNICH

Metternich is an Austrian rock band hailing from Vienna, known for their dynamic blend of humor-infused lyrics in Viennese dialect and potent rock music.

The band's compelling sound and captivating stage presence have earned them significant praise, with reviewers highlighting the balanced band sound, the powerful voice of their lead singer, and their knack for catchy refrains.

The band was formed in November 2016 by Alexander Karlin, Wolfgang Posch, Bernhard Sattra, and David Zenz. They made their first major splash in the music scene with the release of their music video for "Da Winta" in February 2017.

Metternich quickly gained momentum, releasing more clips on YouTube and performing their first concerts in Viennese nightclubs. They soon expanded their reach with performances at Hafen Open Air and Donauinselfest.

Album „Oidakalyptus Now“ (30.9.2022)

Metternich has been regularly played on Radio 88.6 and made a guest appearance on the second-to-last episode of the ORF show "Die Brieflosshow," moderated by Peter Rapp, on November 28, 2018.

In 2022, they participated in the FM4 Protestsongcontest with the song "Ois fia die Fisch" and were selected for the semi-finals (Top 25 out of more than 200 entries). On September 30th, 2022, the band released their second album, "Oidakalyptus Now."

Album „G'schichtldrucker“ (20.03.2020)

Their debut album, "G'schichtldrucker," was released on March 20th, 2020, through Austrian music company Preiser Records in collaboration with Tempel Records. The album was recorded in Vienna, Austria from March to October 2019, in conjunction with Norbert Leitner.

Filled with vivid stories from everyday Viennese life and backed by virtuoso guitar solos and solid rock, "G'schichtldrucker" has been praised for its high-quality craftsmanship and Wiener Schmääh (Viennese humor).
