

Love, aggression, rage.

Three words.

Inconspicuous...

...yet defining everyone's life - The music's key note of Crossing Borders. The basic idea is to combine melodious English rock music with straight Russian rap vocals.

Going outside the envelope, linguistically and musically. The band member's different backgrounds and biographical experiences simply amplify that creative work's objective. The single members Nick, T1Rap, Church, Dany and Stefan have known each other for years from various musical projects of all shades.

We're bavarian musicians who took up the cause of producing music regardless of political discourse, linguistic barriers or nationality. We view music as an outlet of human beings - independent from the origin. At best, music finds its way into the ears and hearts of the listeners.

Originally, the main idea was to write songs in English. Over time and some fateful providence we came to realize both languages, English and Russian, would consort with each other very well.

The songs, sometimes fragil, sometimes impulsiv. But always reflected and - supported by the incentive handmade beats and powerful riffs - canalized.

The impact of HipHop, Pop, NuMetal, Rock and Crossover is glaring, innovative and finally auspicious as well. This melange's got that certain something, both during a sensitive ballad and the hard rock axe.

We aim to be an extending mouthpiece in life's validity, unadorned reality and that inexhaustible longing for meaning in life and it's expression.
