Yohan

Indie-Folk from Munich

Bio (February 2013)

Yohan is a singer/songwriter from Munich. He plays a mix of Indie-Folk, reduced to the minimum of guitar and singing, intense sometimes and calm at another time. His first EP "moonrise" combines six songs, ranging from the spheric title track to straight rock songs. It all started with the song "moonrise", which just came up the night before Christmas, when Yohan visited his parents in Bamberg and tried a few chords on his fathers new guitar, a 50 EUR bargain from the flea market. The song deals with the notion of death being a somnambulistic journey both for the dead and the loved ones left behind. Other songs quickly followed the next couple of days, like "happy now", which tries to capture the feeling of belonging and togetherness, while the modest and and calm "with you" is an ode to true love. First the material was just captured on a notebook and not supposed to be released. However, back in Munich, Yohan just decided to write lyrics for the demos and to capture the songs in his home studio. After a two-days recording session, everything was tape-recorded, and now can't wait to be played live. The EP "Moonrise" will be released on April 5th on Lasso Records and will be available for download via itunes. It will also be available as digipack and can be mailordered via info@lassorecords.de
